

BE PREPARED FOR AUTO ENROLMENT With Harrogate Law Society in 2015 Seminar Invite

Is your firm ready for auto enrolment?

You may be aware that all employers now have a legal obligation to help employees save for their retirement. Through enrolling certain staff members into a pension scheme, the government hopes this will encourage people to save more for their retirement.

The pension scheme must meet set criteria and the employer must also make contributions towards it.

At Wesleyan, we understand that auto enrolment is expected to present some considerable challenges for law firms, which is why we've created our auto enrolment Information Service, to help you better understand the key challenges you may face, such as:

- ▶ your obligations as an employer to meet the requirements set by The Pensions Regulator
- ▶ the impact this will have on you as an employer and your staff
- ▶ What you must NOT do
- ▶ What are the costs involved
- ▶ How to communicate all information to staff

Seven key steps to auto enrolment:

1. Identify your staging date
2. Assess your workforce
3. Review your existing pension arrangements
4. Communicate the changes to employees
5. Auto enrol all eligible employees
6. Contribute you your employers pensions
7. Register with The Pensions Regulator
